

Noah Liel-Cohen Professor of Cardiology (emeritus) at the Faculty of Health Sciences at Ben Gurion University of the Negev and until July 2020 the Head of the Echocardiography Unit, the Cardiology Division at Soroka Medical Center, Beer Sheva, Israel. Teacher and researcher. Co-founder of Dia Imaging Analysis, a company developing automatic tools for analysis of ultrasound clips. Member of the Health Network 8400. Co-founder of The Israeli Society for Healthcare (July 2020) and the Head of the Fellowship Program and Chair of the Education Committee. Involved in global health assisting implementation of echocardiography services in low income countries and the academic coordinator of the global health clerkship at the Medical School for International Health (MSIH) at Ben Gurion University.

Phone: 972-528474738 Mail: lielnoah@bgu.ac.il